

Stephen Silas Selected to Participate in 2010 Home Hardware CHL/NHL Top Prospects Game

Belleville Bulls defenceman Stephen Silas has been selected to participate in the 2010 Home Hardware CHL/NHL Top Prospects Game being held January 20 in Windsor. The rosters were selected by the 30 NHL General Managers with NHL Central Scouting and will feature Bobby Orr and Don Cherry as Head Coaches.

Silas is enjoying a very strong sophomore season with Belleville in which he has recorded four goals and 22 points in 35 games played while also adding 46 penalty minutes. The Georgetown, Ontario native was the Bulls Rookie of the Year last season after scoring three times and adding 14 assists in 63 games played. Silas also participated in the 2009 Subway Super Series earlier this season and is currently ranked 16th by NHL Central Scouting in their preliminary OHL rankings for the 2010 NHL Entry Draft.

The 2010 Home Hardware CHL/NHL Top Prospects Game will be shown live on Rogers Sportsnet on Wednesday, January 20.
